- 2) Rate Study Discussion: General Services Director introduced Weston and Sampson, Raftelis Financial Consultants and Woodcock Associates to discuss the ongoing Water and Sewer Utility rate study. They started by discussing a very brief history of Concord's rates and the rationale for how those rates were developed in the past. They stated that the purpose of this meeting was to formulate a direction on how they were going to approach this new study taking into consideration; Affordability, Conservation/Demand Management, Cost of Service Based Allocations, Minimizing Rate Impacts, Rate Stability and the other items listed in the handout. Mayor Bouley the last time they conducted the rate study, about 10 years ago, and what factors have changed since then. Chris Woodcock commented that major conservation efforts from 10 years ago are mainly in place now and still a consideration in developing a rate structure and the blocks of customer may have changed from. City Manager Aspell wants to be sure that they consider the impact of a higher availability portion of the rate on conservation and also the ability of very minimal users to pay and also how to develop the rate to help generate economic development for potential high utility use customers. Dave Fox commented that is the balancing act in these studies to level out all of these issues, maintain stability of rates, have a predictable revenue stream to meet operating costs and capital improvement, and maintain a financially stable fund. Mayor Bouley reiterated the economic development portion of the review as the City Council has economic development as one of its main priorities. Chairman Nyhan commented that flattening out the rate increases is also important so that customers do not see major swings from year to year.

- 3) Finance Committee Budget Schedule: Deputy City Manager LeBrun presented the revised draft budget schedule which changed the City Manager's presentation through review of General Fund revenues from Saturday May 20 to Monday May 15 and that any additional changes can be made based on FPAC's recommendations. City
